Agreed to:

(1) An amendment that requires that a geologist prepare a map of a surface to be mined only when subsurface information is deemed essential by the regulatory authority;

(2) An amendment that gives the regulatory authority, rather than the operator, the responsibility for notifying local governments of any proposed surface mining (agreed to by a division vote of 25 ayes to 15 noes);

(3) An amendment that adds language requiring a separate set of regulations on anthracite coal mines;

(4) An amendment that requires that, with any application for bond release, the regulatory authority must notify the municipality in which a surface mining operation is located at least 30 days prior to the release of the bond;

Prior to its amendment by a substitute, as amended, the amendment sought to provide for a fee of $2.50 per million per ton with credits of up to 90 percent of the gross fee for the costs of reclamation activities and coal mine safety activities;

(14) A substitute amendment as amended, to amendment No. 13 that provides for $200 million annually from revenues of the Outer Continental Shelf Act. Prior to its amendment the amendment sought to delete the severance tax and substitute an annual appropriation of $125 million;

(15) An amendment to amendment No. 14 that substitutes the $200 million fund for the $125 million appropriation;

(16) On a split question, agreed to part of an amendment that strikes out section 404 on reclamation responsibility. Subsequently, rejected the second half of the amendment which sought to delete section 405 on reclamation of rural lands (rejected by a division vote of 7 ayes to 29 noes);

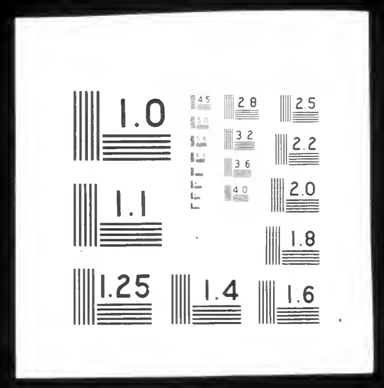
RESOLUTION CHART



100 MILLIMETERS

INSTRUCTIONS Resolution is expressed in terms of the lines per millimeter recorded by a particular film under specified conditions. Numerals in chart indicate the number of lines per millimeter in adjacent "T-shaped" groupings.

In microfilming, it is necessary to determine the reduction ratio and multiply the number of lines in the chart by this value to find the number of lines recorded by the film. As an aid in determining the reduction ratio, the line above is 100 millimeters in length. Measuring this line in the film image and dividing the length into 100 gives the reduction ratio. Example: the line is 20 mm. long in the film image, and 100/20 = 5.

Examine "T-shaped" line groupings in the film with microscope, and note the number adjacent to finest lines recorded sharply and distinctly. Multiply this number by the reduction factor to obtain resolving power in lines per millimeter. Example: 7.9 group of lines is clearly recorded while lines in the 10.0 group are not distinctly separated. Reduction ratio is 5, and 7.9 x 5 = 39.5 lines per millimeter recorded satisfactorily. 10.0 x 5 = 50 lines per millimeter which are not recorded satisfactorily. Under the particular conditions, maximum resolution is between 39.5 and 50 lines per millimeter.

Resolution, as measured on the film, is a test of the entire photographic system, including lens, exposure, processing, and other factors. These rarely utilize maximum resolution of the film. Vibrations during exposure, lack of critical focus, and exposures yielding very dense negatives are to be avoided.
